1. German military personnel, including women who are being trained and taught flying, are stationed at the airfield in Drewitz near Cottbus. An unidentified private firm has been ordered to supply the field with 6,000 concrete fence posts.
2. Another airfield is under construction between Jockendorf and Simmersdorf, four to five kilometers south of Forst. Strips of sod about five meters wide have already been dug up.
3. The airfield at Neuhausen between Spremberg and Cottbus which was formerly idle is being reactivated. The field north of Kahrenz is also being rebuilt once more.
4. A new construction project has been started near Brand on the road between Cottbus and Berlin, northeast of the Brand railway station. It is not known what the installation is to be.
5. An aircraft engine plant is under construction on a piece of ground about 200 by 800 meters in Ludwigsfelde near Berlin. The rail line between Berlin-Schoeneweide and Ludwigsfelde is already in operation. It is planned to build three more railway stations in the vicinity of Ludwigsfelde. A railway station at the Schoenefeld airfield has already been completed.
